[For the Daily Indiana State Sentinel.]

"The Maine Law and the Todd Circular." Under the above head, a writer in the Indiana State Journal of the 15th inst., lashes himself into a violent rage and asserts, with impudent mendacity "that the infamous circular which was issued on the eve of the late Senatorial election, stated a falsehood in reference to the right of search given by the Maine Law." These lines in italic are the words of this ill natured scribbler.

It is very evident that the writer is sorely vexed and full of bad humour. He has been severely beaten, sorely whipped, put to an open shame, and finds his only relief in growling, scolding and grieving in deep sorrow, and in the use of indecent words. He is really to be pitied, and were it not for the fear that he might fancy himself a man of prodigious genius and of great legal talent, and therefore to be dreaded, he might still be allowed to utter his malignity, unnoticed and uncontradicted. When a booby of a boy receives a switching from his mother, he generally goes off, blubbering and muttering, and when his mother is out of sight is very resolute and reproachful. Such is plainly the feelings and situation of this pettifogging writer, who is nearly driven to tears by his late defeat in the election of Capt.

Public odium has so plainly set its seal upon the managers who opposed Capt. Todd's election and they are so completely overwhelmed by the result, that they now resort to every subterfuge to cover their retreat from the indignant frown of an offended community. It was their imprudence, their domineering dictation, their destitution of common sease, that caused the people to rise in their might, and to administer this scathing rebuke, alike dishonorable to these hypocrites and fanatics, and crushing and blasting to their inture hopes and designs.

Well may they strive to hide their deformities in attempting to raise a dust and a smoke. Well may they try to malign others and to provoke personal quarrels. Well may they denounce as "lies" and "falsehoods" those truths, which told a plain tale, and which so flatly

The writer of the Circular has always stood up for his principles and for his party, in despite the assassin attempts of these same men to defeat him, and to destroy his influence with the people. Long has he marked their duplicity, their hypocrisy, and their treachery to Democracy, and he has it in his power to tell of quite a different course on the part of some of these men who have recently attempted to rule and ruin the Democratic party, and to control the will of the people.

This impudent writer in the Journal who signs himself "Justice" seems to forget that the Todd Circular is still in the hands of the people, and that they are fully competent to understand its plain and truthful contents. He assumes to say that the Circular traduced Mr. Coburn. This is not true, but on the contrary, it speaks of Mr. Coburn in respectful terms and makes no unkind badly beaten, but his own imprudence in placing himself as a candidate, in the hands of silly, fanatical and detain to his written answer to the catechising committee.

would permit the privacies of their houses to be searched—their wives' bed rooms to be opened by every official who might be disposed to annoy them. No, they never would permit the sanctity of a freeman's home to be invaded. Indeed the Bill of Rights of the new Constitution declares, in Section 11: 'The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable search or seizure, shall not be violated.'

To some this may appear a small matter, and I may seem over sensitive in regard to it. I remind such persons, that Alexander Hamilton, while Secretary of the Treasury, once risked his domestic tranquillity by publicly confessing to a love intrigue, because thus only could be explain circumstances casting suspicion on his official character for honesty, in connection with some trifling pecuniary transactions.

"Would not the provision of the Maine Law be plain-ly and virtually unconstitutional, and are not its advocates overheated and unfit advisers of the proper law?"

Now that the people may fully judge of the law, the 11th section which regulates the searching of shops, stores, and dwelling houses is here published. Read and compare the Circular and the law. See if the law does not fully sustain the remarks of the Circular.

The whigs evidently find it will be a difficult matter to defeat Gov. Wright by arguments against his administration. He has made as good a chief magistrate as fediang or any other State averhed; and has mat the

TO THE EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL-Sir :- There are many vague charges, constantly brought up against public men, which have little point or effect, and are

Committee on Engrossment, in conjunction fessor Read and Robert Dale Owen, and we hazard little in saying, that he was by far the most efficient member of that committee. For this service he charged, and was allowed, three dollars, while the other two charged $42 and $48. Mr. Newman is a Whig, the other two Damocrats. Hence the difference."

Knowing John S. Newman well, and esteeming him as much as I know him, I can imagine the just indignation with which he will read this paragraph, if it ever meet Laberty and Nassau Streets, and December 1. Laberty and Street, and December 2. Laberty and Street, and December 2.

The facts are these: Mr. Newman, Professor Read and myself, the sub-committee on revision, through whose hands the constitution had passed, were appointed by the Convention a committee of Enrollment and Publication. We met. Mr. Newman stated to us, that pro-fessional business, which he could not, without serious loss, postpone, called him home; and that, as Professor Read and myself would constitute a quorum of the Committee, he desired to leave the next day. Relactantly,-for on the committee of revision, we had learned the value of his services, -we assented to this arrangement. And, as he remained with us but a single day, he charged for that day only; that is, three dollars. The gentleman to whom the contrat for printing was given decided to have it executed in Cincinnati. Thither therefore, after preparing the constitution for enrollment, and seeing that matter fairly under way, Professor Read and myself had to proceed. After we had revised the greater part of the proofs, I left Professor Read to complete that duty, and returned to Indianapolis Read to complete that duty, and returned to Indianapolis to revise and compare the two copies enrolled on parchment. That done, I returned to Cincinnati, where I sole agent for the United States; and where one of the Tombs can found the English edition just completed, and the Gerbesen. man translation commenced. As Professor Read is unacquainted with German, he had returned home, leaving me to see the German edition through. This I did; and it was fortunate that I happened to be familiar with that language., for several gross errors had crept into the translation, wholly changing the meaning from the original. Within two hours after the last revised proof passed from my hands, I left the city for home, whence a perfect right (as the journey to Cincinnati was none of our seeking and we were compelled to make it, in discharge of the duty entrusted to us by the Convention) to charge, in addition to our per diem, the expenses of that trip. I think most persons would have done so; and I do not doubt the charge would have been allowed and I do not doubt the charge and I do not dou a perfect right (as the journey to Cincinnati was none of of Mr. Coburn in respectful terms and makes no unkind to charge, in addition to our per diem, the expenses of allusion to him as a private citizen. We took our per diem only, three dollars a day during the time we were compelled to remain. I left two hours after the duty entrosted to me was completed. Neither Professor Read nor myself charged, or received, one cent beyond.

THE GREAT KENTUCKY BEMEDY. DR. JOHN BULL'S SARSAPARILLA!! Will Wonders never Cease?

File following cures, performed alone by the use of BULL'S SARSAPARILLA, are not wonders, then we acknowledge that we do not know the meaning of the word. Read, and be convinced that facts are stranger than

LINE P. O., Fulton Co., Ky., Oct. 1, 1851.

Dr. John Bull: Dear Sir—The two dozen of your Sarsaparilia, ordered in September, came to hand, and, in acknowledging the receipt of the same, I feel I would be doing you injustice to withhold the following, among the many of the instances that have come under my observation, during the last two years, of the great curative prop-

tion, during the last two years, of the great curative properties of your Sarsaparilla:—

Mrs. Jeannette Martin, a highly respectable lady of my neighborhood, aged sixty-five years, had been long afflicted with a cancerous ulcer, which finally reduced her to so helpless a condition, that she could not leave her bed. She tried the best medical advice in our county, without relief, and had given up all hopes of a cure. At this stage of her case, I persuaded her son to take a bottle of your Sarsaparilla. He did so, and in a short time returned, and purchased another bottle, stating the first had had a decidedly good effect. She continued to use it until, after the use of five or six bottles, I had the pleasure of seeing the old lady herself at church. She assured me that she had almost entirely recovered her health, and from her I received the account of her disease, and in about the same words I give it to yo. This is but one of a number of cures under my observation—of very remarkable ones—perfermed by the observation—of very remarkable ones—perfermed by the use of your Sarsaparilla, in my neighborhood. The command for it has steadily increased since its introduction here.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WM. R. DICKINSON, P. M.

BOYLE COURTY, Ky., Oct. 6, 1851.

Dr. John Bull: Dear Sir—I have seen the most marvellous cure of one of my patients, by your valuable medicine—an cld lady, who had been afflicted from her childhood with scrofula, and various diseases of the brain. She was sixty years old. It had run into something like legrosy, and she was the most frightful creature my eyes ever beheld. I called in Dr. McFadden, a very fine physician, to consult with me in relation to her. We came to the conclusion that it was out of our power to relieve her; but, on going to my office, I accidentally picked up one of your Journals, when, on seeing the wonderful cures your Sarsaparilla had effected, I resolved to try the experiment in this case. I took her two bottles of it, after taking which I perceived a great change. I took her some more. She is now taking the sixth bottle, and I consider her extirely cured. I take great pleasure in recommending your Sarcured. I take great pleasure in recommending your Sar asparilla to the afflicted public.
Yours respectfully,

JOHN M. ROSS, M. D.

I, Thomas A. Ringo of Graves Co., Ky., for the benefit of mankind generally, do hereby certify, that on or about the 16th day of October, 1847, I was attacked with a very severe pain in the lower part of the abdomen, which lasted but a few minutes, and moved into the left hip, and continued exceedingly painful for about five days, during which time I had a very light fever. At the end of that time the fever coused, and the pain abated for a day or two, after which it again returned, and was much worse than before. During all this time I was under medical treatment. From a short time after I was taken, I was unable to walk or sit up; the hip in which the pain was so had to waik or sit up; the cip in which the pain was so may commenced rising, until some time in January, when it burst, and a number of pieces of bone came out—as many as twenty, at least. Some of the pieces were three-fourths of an inch long. Some time after this, a hard knot appeared on my right hip, also one on my right wrist, and one on my leg, below my knee. I continued to get weak and worse, and pain made its appearance in my right shoulder, and would move in my breast and stemach. At this time all persons gave me up to die. A physician these this time all persons gave me up to die. A physician thea told me that, as a last remedy, I had better use MR. BULL'S FLUID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. After the use of the second bottle, the knot on my wrist commenced getting soft. I opened it, and a day or two after, a piece of bone came out. My wrist soon got well, and I continued to gain strongth. After I used the third bottle, I could get no more for some four weeks, after which time I succeeded in getting three more bottles. After using the three last bottles, the knot on my hip became soft; it was three last bottles, the knot on my hip became soft; it was opened, and some corruption ran out, together with a spail piece of bone, and the sore soon got well, and the knot entirely diappeared. The sore on my leg also opened, and a piece of bone came out. I continued the use of the Sarsaparilla until I used twelve bottles, and am now entirely well, and able to do daily labor. It may seem strange to some, but I will here state that, during the summer of 1849, I coughed up three pieces of bone, which can now be seen at the residence of my uncle, Thos. Neal, where I now live, and if any persons doubt this statement, I will be happy to converse with them, if they will call on ms. Signed,

EDWIN ANDERSON. Can the reader believe, after reading the description of the above numerous cures, that there is still a few human beings, suffering with disease, that refuse to give Bull's Sarsaparilla a trial. It is indeed hard to believe, but nevertheless, it is too true. What kind of testimony would it take to convince the few remaining disbelievers, that Bull's medicine will do more even than it promises? The doctor could produce another and another cure performed by his medicine; but if the cases published above will not convince the sceptical, it is useless to produce any more, and, indeed, it would cost a fortune to publish the many certificates that have been showered on Dr Bull. The largest manmoth sheet in America would not contain even the names of those cured, let alone full statements of their cases.

C. ZIMMERMAN. EDWIN MAY. C. ZIMMERMAN & Co., Improved Fire and Water Proof Composition Roofing. WE desire to direct the particular attention of the Public to our Composition Roofing, in the Manufacture of which we have been extensively engaged during several years past. It has been but recently that this article was first introduced by us in this State. It was then new, had no influence in its favor but its own merit, and did not fail to receive its full share of the opposition which is so generally and indiscriminately urged against new im-provements, or innovation upon old established custom. The fact that it has, under these or cumstances, solely upon its own merits, and in so short apace of time, overrun all opposition, and grown into almost universal theor, is sufficient evidence of the judgment of the public as to its utility and value.

Having had our Roof tested under every variety of circumstances, we confidently offer it to the public as a mode of Roofing unobjecwe confidently offer it to the public as a mode of Roofing mobjectionable in every important particular, while it combines in a greater degree than any other Roof in use, the valuable requisites of chenpness, durability, and accurity against both fire and water. This system of Roofing is superceding the use of all other kinds, giving universal satisfaction, and is highly recommended by all who have tested as utility. These Roofs require an inclination of only one inch to the foot, which is often of great advantage in cases of fire, and for drying purposes. They are afforded at a price not to exceed the cost of simple roofing, while the amount of material seved, which would otherwise be used in extending up the walts to a steep roof, often renders the post of the building less with the Composition Roof than with shinglex and sometimes the whole cost of Roofing a building a ter this plant is paid for by the brick saved in the gable ends, and the truss framing necessary for such buildings. The expense of the or metal guiters may always be saved, as we make the gutters of the same material, and the distance the water may have to run does not increase the liability to leak

It will be to the interest of those about to use these Roofs, to bear in mind, that whatever value and reputation, they have acquired in this vicinity, has resulted from the work performed by us. We have put on apwards of four hundred Roofs, and there is not, to our knowledge, an individual who has had a Roof made by as, who would not again adopt our Roof.

Knowing the unportance of punctuality in our business, we pledge ourselves that no hindrance to the progress of other parts of the building shall be caused by delay on our part. We hold ourselves in readiness to execute orders to any extent for our Roofing, and at the shortest notice.

In the course of our operations here, several important improve-ments have been made by us, both in the mode of putting on, and also in the preparation and compounding of the materials of the composition, which render it peculiarly adapted to this elimate. No knowledge of this latter and very essential part of the business has ever been communicated by us to any one.

If We are also prepared to furnish plans for the construction of Buildings and Roofs to receive our Composition Roofing, and shall be pleased to meet any who has desire further information relative to our Roof, and about samples of our Roofing, measuring from 1.00 may not see relative to our Roof, and abow samples of our Roefing measuring from 1,000 to 8,000 feet.

As an evidence of the truth of our statements, and the high character which our Roof sustains in this State, we refer to the undersigned, who have it use our Improved Fire and Water Proof Composition Reof, and are best qualified to testify in its favor.
